

Kohler Experience Centres Taipei, Singapore & Bangkok

Within the space of one short week, American bathroom and kitchen brand Kohler opened three new 'experience centres' in Asia. Taking pride of place in a row of Singaporean shophouses is an LTW-designed space. Sukhumvit Road near Soi 36 in Bangkok is home to a P49-designed space, and Songjiang Road is where you'll find Taipei's own X-Line-designed flagship. Each of the spaces is individual but designed with one thing in mind: to create a unique place where designers and clients can experience the brand in an intimate environment.
